Learning Communities and ACE Mentors

BHCC Learning Communities provide students with the opportunity to learn in a supportive and engaging environment that enables stronger relationships among students, faculty, and staff. Students participating in Learning Communities benefit from interdisciplinary learning experiences, teacher to student mentoring, peer mentoring, and integrated support services, including peer mentors and success coach advisors. Students enrolled in Learning Communities are more likely to persist in their studies and earn more college credits. First-time to-college students pursuing associate degrees and enrolled in nine or more credits are required to take a Learning Community Seminar or a Learning Community Cluster within their first year. Most importantly, Learning Communities are places where student experiences and voices are recognized as strengths, and in these courses students activate the passions, talents, and skills they bring to their BHCC success stories.

The Bunker Hill Community College ACE Mentor Program is committed to helping new students make a successful transition to Bunker Hill Community College by focusing on academic achievement, engagement, and cultural competency. ACE Mentors are integrated into Learning Community classrooms where they serve as resources to help new students adjust to the academic, social and personal environment at BHCC. ACE Mentors collaborate with faculty in designing Learning Community curriculum and assignments and co-facilitate class activities and discussions on difficult issues such as religion, race, class, gender and culture. Student Leadership and Engagement/Orientation Leaders The BHCC Student Leadership and Engagement Office works with a team of experienced students who serve as Orientation Leaders (OL's). Orientation Leaders assist new students in making the successful transition to Bunker Hill Community College. First and foremost, Orientation Leaders are goodwill ambassadors of the institution and serve as an additional resource to new students as they acclimate to academic and student life at BHCC. The Orientation Leaders is a positive role model who demonstrates through their words and actions the appropriate behaviors, attitudes and values we instill in our college community.

Similarly, the Orientation Leaders role is to support the goals of BHCC to provide excellent customer service, promote student success, and prepare students for the workforce. The Orientation Leaders serves as a guide to a less experienced new student with the goal of developing self-reliance and personal accountability. The OL is active in helping to shape the life of another by demonstrating positive values and actions and providing active support and guidance; to positively guide a new students’ actions, attitudes and behaviors.

The Student Leadership and Engagement Office works very closely with Orientation Leaders, and provides them with considerable training to manage the multiple demands of their positions, empower them as resource-brokers to effectively refer students to whatever assistance and support they need, and as leaders to help shape the culture of the college through positive action, service and community development.
